Jamestown Business College President Elected to APC Board of Trustees

ALBANY, NY – The membership of the Association of Proprietary Colleges (APC) elected David Conklin to its Board of Trustees at the recent annual meeting in Albany.

Conklin, President of Jamestown Business College, will serve a one-year term, after which he will be eligible for re-election.

Conklin has been employed by Jamestown Business College for more than 25 years. Beginning his career in 1983 as an instructor, he was named academic dean in 2000 and most recently vice president in 2007. Professionally active, Conklin has visited other colleges as a member of accreditation evaluation teams for the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, has received training as an evaluator for the New York State Education Department and represented the college in a number of state and national professional organizations.

Conklin earned a bachelor's degree from the State University of New York at Buffalo and holds a master's degree from the State University of New York at Fredonia. He lives in Jamestown with his wife and four children.
