

FIND YOUR FUTURE WITH APC COLLEGES

Association of Proprietary Colleges
Believe. Achieve. Succeed.

Success is in your future.

It's Your Future: Start Planning Now!

Think for a second. What do you want to be when you grow up – a computer expert, a health care professional or a graphic designer? How about an advertising executive or a chef at a famous restaurant? Not sure yet? That's okay. Even if you haven't decided your career, it's never too early to start thinking about your future, and APC Colleges are here to help.

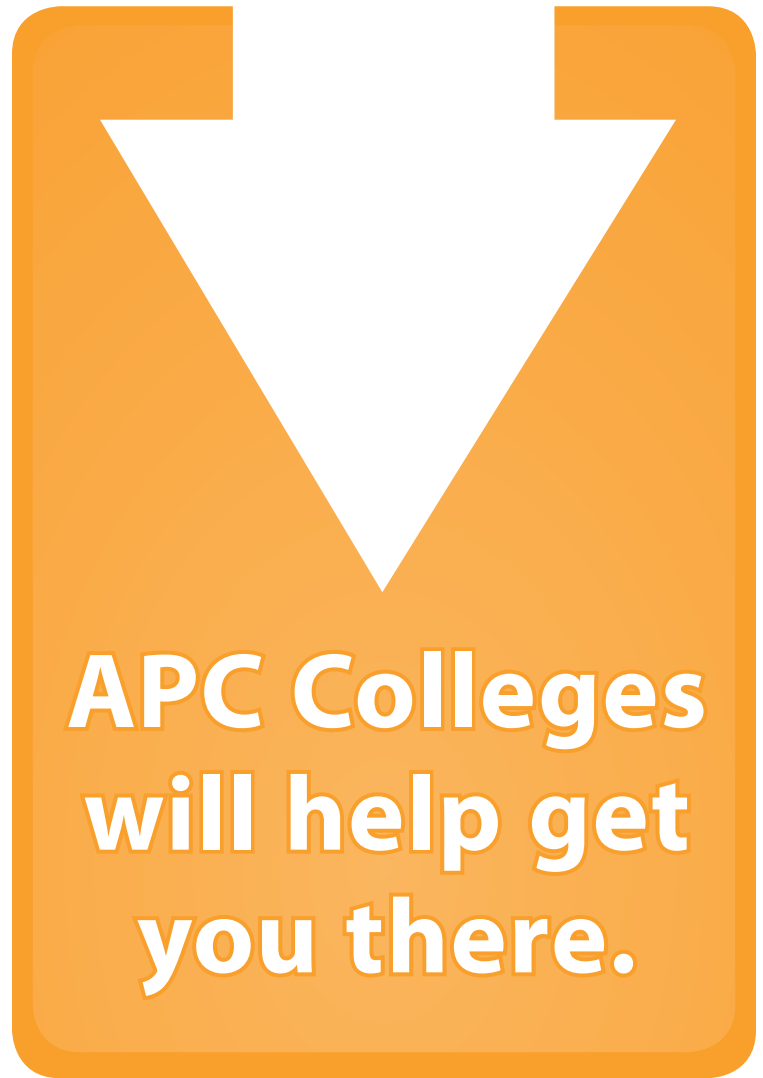

APC is the Association of Proprietary Colleges. We have 26 member colleges on 36 campuses all across New York State. Many of our colleges are family owned and have a long tradition of serving the higher education needs of New York's students. We're known by some very familiar names, like the Art Institute of New York City, Berkeley College, ITT Technical Institute, Bryant & Stratton College, DeVry College of New York, LIM, Monroe College and many more.

APC Colleges offer a range of targeted associate, bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree programs. We are accredited by national, state or regional accrediting bodies of higher education. Programs of study meet the same standards for registration that apply to all of New York's public and independent colleges.

We offer degrees in more than 60 majors, including accounting, graphic design, music, medical assisting, business administration, journalism, web and game design, nonprofit management and much more.

APC Colleges connect New Yorkers to good jobs and a stronger future. How? By offering academic programs that best prepare students for the realities of the workplace; by partnering with the business community to ensure you graduate ready to make an immediate and positive contribution; and by being able to rapidly adjust our curriculum to meet changing trends in the workplace.

Our colleges believe in you, and they prove it every day by offering you a quality education from faculty members who are experienced in the field, not just the classroom. It means your education will be relevant in the job markets of today and tomorrow. You'll enjoy small class sizes that guarantee greater attention from your instructors, great internships and classes on nights and weekends. And you'll benefit from the college's commitment to help you thrive in the classroom and find employment after you graduate.

Paying for College

For many young – and even adult – students, cost can be a barrier to education. The administrative staff at all APC Colleges work very hard to help you maximize the many available grants, low-interest loans and scholarships, making college much more affordable than you ever thought. The following web sites will also give you a jump start to find your funding sources.
